*E. L. Bowsher High School
Toledo, Ohio
Volume I*

1963

Just as this building slowly emerged through the efforts of many artisans, was polished and finished to its predetermined purpose of being a school, so do we continue these labors for a higher polish of education where minds instead of rivets are the materials; administrators are the architects and draftsmen; teachers instead of laborers are the craftsmen, and where soundness of thought, expression and citizenship replace fine structural design as a reward for their efforts. Therefore as the theme of our first yearbook we have chosen the term, We Build. The building process has not ceased with the completion of the physical building. On the contrary, it has just begun and will continue throughout the bright future of our new high school.

E. L. Bowsher
Superintendent, Toledo Public Schools
1937-1958

Bowsher High School is proud to bear the respected name of E. L. BOWSHER. Through the years Mr. Bowsher has achieved distinction as an outstanding leader in civic projects. The determination by which he undertakes projects gains him the respect and admiration of his fellow citizens. As Superintendent of the Toledo Public Schools in the years 1937 to 1958, Mr. Bowsher's accomplishments are fully recognized by this community. His striving to perfect the school system has shown that he is a dedicated public servant. We enjoy numerous achievements in our school system today because of Mr. Bowsher's strong leadership.

As a modern new building, Bowsher High School is under the careful observance of the Toledo Board of Education. Their supervision and guidance has given us a school system of which we can be proud. The co-operation of this board has aided Bowsher to become a school of high scholastic standards and ideals.

Faculty

The faculty are the craftsmen who take the raw materials and begin to shape them. They apply the most modern methods of their craft just as a worker would skillfully use the most advanced tools. They are the artisans who steer the rough materials into channels that will express their best facets just as a carpenter turns the best sides of the board toward the outside. They can be compared to the mechanics that lubricate with ideas and knowledge, adjust with discipline and time, and feed the fires of knowledge with books and study materials. And like the craftsmen and mechanics they are sometimes forgotten while their polished work can be clearly seen.

To the Student Body

With the publication of this first "Apogee", Bowsher High School completes a year filled with many new experiences. As we review the several years of planning that preceded the actual opening of this high school it would be impossible in this limited space to thank all the people who played vital roles in the financing, designing and actual construction of the building.

We would like most of all to thank the students who attend Bowsher for having contributed so much during our opening year. The high standards of excellence which you have set for yourselves have done much to establish a good reputation for our school.

To the Seniors we wish success in their chosen areas of work or study. There is still much work to be done and many traditions to be established or strengthened. We trust that those of you who will return as students next year will continue with your efforts to make our school one of which we can be justly proud.

Classes

We, the students, are aware of the construction that is occurring around us and we realize that we too can build to improve ourselves and our future. Here we choose our careers; here we build within us an inner strength so that we may meet the coming challenges. We as students can do so much more than materials can do for their craftsmen. We can respond by developing to our highest potential so that we in turn can guide those that follow us.

We Are Proud to Be . . .

Smiles of relief are shown on the faces of the Senior newspaper staff as the last deadline is met.

The time has arrived for the final farewell. It becomes even harder when we realize that we will be leaving something of us behind. The last days were filled with excitement which we shared with so many familiar faces and yet we realize that many of these friends will never again cross our paths as we seek our place in the world.

We gave to Bowsher High School the one intangible substance that no architect or contractor could design or build. We gave it a life, a purpose for existing. In return we were given the keys which will enable us to unlock the doors to knowledge. The apo-gee of our dreams has not yet been reached but we have been instilled with the desire to gain it. Into each senior's rapidly growing plan of life, Bowsher High School has laid a basis composed of eagerness and hope on which we may build a full and rewarding future.

A lot of work plus a lot of fun equals the yearbook staff.

Activities

Activities is the phase of school life where a different type of construction begins. The effects of the outside world begin to work into the school, and the student is encouraged to socialize into groups for the purpose of allowing him to adjust to social influences. Citizenship begins, the respect for other people's ideas and rights. Through extra-curricular activities, perspective is molded into the mind and each individual sees himself as a part of the whole. Then, and only then, can the final product, the well adjusted student, be presented for the public's approval.

STUDENT COUNCIL

There can be no more appropriate subject to treat initially in the realm of student activities than that organization which represents the student body. A Student Council can offer a training ground for leadership, an organization for character building and a laboratory for citizenship. The first Student Council of Bowsher High School exhibited a special enthusiasm. No traditions or patterns bound the new high school and the Student Council felt free to plan its function. The Bowsher Student Council will work to promote fine inter-scholastic relations, student — faculty cooperation, and the general betterment of the school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Being elected to the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that a high school student can receive. Membership to this organization is based on the qualities of scholarship, character, service, and leadership. Those eligible for membership to the honor society are Juniors who are in the top ten percent of their class with the grade average of at least a B and seniors who have maintained a B grade average. The object of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of E.L. Bowsher High School.

Work, combined with fun and frustrations equalled Bowsher's first yearbook. The staff of nine had the honor of selecting the name and planning the complete layout for the history of our first school year. As each deadline approached, the time element seemed a pressing problem, but the staff managed to overcome this difficulty. Now that the school year has ended, the members of the staff feel that their hard work is now a tangible source that will last.

Crest

Fun and deadlines combined with long hours at writing compiled Bowsher's first issues of the Crest. This year's staff under the leadership of its editor Chris Conant joined efforts and ideas to produce a paper of high standards. Although at times the job of sending the paper to press seemed an impossible task, a faithful staff met every deadline. Each bi-weekly of The Crest has served to inform students of school events and extra-curricular activities. Each individual who has worked on Bowsher's first staff is proud to know that the first year was a success.

Mr. Grabill gives some advice to members of the orchestra.

Orchestra

The Orchestra, aptly conducted by Mr. Grabill, provided music for school functions this year. A beautiful Christmas program and a concert in the spring were fine examples of a well organized group of music-minded students. The Orchestra sponsored a sock-hop after a basketball game and enjoyed a beach party and a roast. Eleven of its members participate in the Toledo Youth Orchestra. Bowsher's musicians work toward awards by earning points on a merit system.

Mr. Evans listens for flats and sharps.

Choir

The Choir, under the direction of Mr. Evans, has enjoyed a successful first year. They gave their first performance to the audience of the school's dedication program. They also participated in the Christmas program and in a concert with Waite and Start High Schools. Their harmonious renditions were welcomed and appreciated by the student body of Bowsheer High School.

Athletics

As there must be mortar and cement to hold the foundation and superstructure of a building together, it is also vital that there be a cohesive force to unify the people of any society. In an athletic program there is an opportunity for the individual to express himself through physical fitness and cooperation. This is the same cooperation which must be used in any organization. It is a substantial component, whether in athletics while building bodies, or in physics while exploring the universe. A successful joint effort is one which is felt by the entire school body where they feel a closeness and association with each member of the school; where a strong cohesive force binds, and later emerges in a national patriotism of a social citizenship; and where bigotry and prejudice are diminished. Although it cannot be found in a textbook, sportsmanship is the most important factor of our athletic program.

Coach Machoukas calmly explains the object of the game.
